Natural Landmarks

Lake Yulovo and its surroundings

Total area is 489 ha, water surface -67 ha. The depth differs from minimum up to 15-20 meters.

The history of the pond began more than one hundred years ago when a local landowner Yulov decided to build a watermill on a fast, clean and cold river Yulovka. The place turned out to be so good that a large pond with clear water appeared there.

Many years later only a dam was left and the pond has turned into a lake with distinctive aquatic flora.

There is not only rich coastal vegetation, flood plains and low marshes, but also wonderful forests of pine trees mostly.

Natural Landmarks

Moss Moor

Moss moor which is located on the territory of Inzensky district was declared a natural landmark on the 16th of June 1987. It is situated in Trusleiskoe forestry, among pine-birch forests where there is water-parting line of the Syuksymka and the Yulovka rivers. The area of this moss moor is 3 ha. It is of scientific value to paleobotanical research.

Its uniqueness lies in the fact that it is the only representative of the real high moor in our region. It is a nesting place of valuable species of waterfowl and a place where rare medicinal plants such as vaginal fluff (Lat. Eriophorum vaginatum), wild rosemary, pine of a special marsh form (Litvinov form pine) grow.

The flora of the swamp includes 17 species of vascular plants and 11 types of moss. There is 500 m protection zone around the natural monument.

Architectural Monuments

Church of St. Nicholas the Miracle-Worker
(village Oskino)

The church construction began in 1909. It took lots of time for local people to choose the construction place. Once a significant event happened. One of the villagers saw a fire coming from the sky. The fire was moving up and down as if indicating something. All the villagers got together to watch the miracle and decided to build a church right in that place.

The Emperor Nicholas II allocated a large amount of best forest from public lands.

The church construction continued for 3 years. In 1912 it was completed. In June, the 13th of the same year the church was solemnly blessed by Archbishop Penzensky Vladimir. Two decades later the church was closed. It was opened again in 1945 and has not been closed since that time.

Church of the Holy Trinity (village Pyatino)

The church was built in 1823 by Anna Ivanovna Annenkova, the mother of the famous Decembrist Ivan Andreevich Annenkov. There are three thrones in the temple: the main one named after the Holy Trinity, the right principal temple in honor of the Holy Righteous Simeon the God-Receiver and Anna the Prophetess. And the left principal temple in honor of Great Martyr Ekaterina.

The Holy Trinity Church was recognized as a Cultural Heritage site of regional significance in 1997.

Architectural Monuments

Church of the Nativity (village Gorodischi)

The first church in honor of the Nativity was built in the village in 1782. In 1898 a new wooden church was constructed on its place. Soon it burnt down. In 1909 a new stone Orthodox Church was laid there. Its construction lasted until 1924. The temple lasted only a short time. It was closed soon after the implementation of construction.

The stone five-headed temple made of red bricks remained until now. It represents the further development of Russian-Byzantine style at the turn of the XIX-XX centuries.
